This document does not constitute an offer, or an invitation to offer, or a recommendation to enter into any transaction. We are not acting as your financial adviser or in a fiduciary capacity in respect of this proposed transaction or any other transaction with you unless otherwise expressly agreed by us in writing. Before entering into any transaction you should take steps to ensure that you understand the transaction and have made an independent assessment of the appropriateness of the transaction in the light of your own objectives and circumstances, including the possible risks and benefits of entering into such transaction. You should also consider seeking advice from your own advisers in making this assessment.

Underlying Exposure	: Party B confirms that: (a) Hedging. The Counterparty is entering into this Transaction solely for the purpose of hedging its genuine underlying exposure and not for the purpose of speculation. The size and tenure of this Transaction does not exceed the size and tenure of the Counterparty's underlying exposure. (b) Party B agrees and undertakes to comply with Regulations in respect of this Transaction and shall submit the required undertaking(s) /declaration(s) as required under these guidelines to Party A in the formats required by Party A.
Additional Provisions	: Party B undertake and confirm as follows: 1. That Party B has entered into this Transaction solely for the purpose of hedging (as defined in the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) directions on "Risk Management and Inter-bank Dealings – Hedging of Foreign Exchange Risk" dated 5 January 2024, as may be modified, supplemented or replaced from time to time, hereinafter the "RBI FX Directions") your genuine underlying (whether anticipated or contracted) exposure. 2. That the notional amount and tenor of this Transaction does not exceed the value and tenure of the underlying exposure which Party B has hedged pursuant to this Transaction. 3. That Party B has not entered into any other contract for hedging the underlying exposure hedged pursuant to this Transaction. 4. In the event that the underlying exposure ceases to exist, in full or in part, you shall forthwith adjust the Transaction to ensure continued compliance with (2) above, unless you assign the Transaction against any other unhedged exposure. Any change in the underlying exposure would be brought to our notice. 5. In the event that the value of the underlying exposure falls below the notional amount of this Transaction, Party B shall forthwith adjust the notional amount of this Transaction unless such an event has occurred due to change in market value of the said underlying exposure, in which case Party B may continue with the Transaction until its stated original maturity. Any change in the underlying notional would be brought to Party A's notice. 6. If Party B is unable to ascertain the value of the underlying exposure hedged under this Transaction, Party B has entered into this Transaction on the basis of reasonable estimates, which Party B shall review periodically in order to ensure continued compliance with (2) and (4) and (5) above. 7. This Transaction is in compliance with, in all respects, all applicable regulations, rules, guidelines, directions, notifications and circulars of the RBI and the Foreign Exchange Dealers Association of India issued, modified, amended, supplemented and/or replaced from time to time, including but not limited to the RBI FX Directions. 8. That Party B will provide any such document as may be requested by Party A from time to time as they may deem necessary in order to evidence the underlying exposure and to comply with the RBI FX Directions. 9. If Party B does not provide the document(s) requested by Party A to evidence the underlying exposure forthwith or within a reasonable time of our request, Party A reserves the right to cancel the Transaction. Any gains accrued on this Transaction will not be passed on to Party B, and Party A reserve the right to recover the losses accrued on the Transaction, from Party B. 10. If Party B has entered into this Transaction to hedge an anticipated exposure (as set out in the RBI FX Directions) net gains which are gains over and above losses, if any, accruing to Party B shall be passed on only at the time a cash flow has resulted under the anticipated exposure hedged hereunder. in the event of a partial delivery, net gains shall only be passed on to Party B on a pro-rata basis. if there is no cash flow, Party A at their discretion may, in exceptional cases, still pass on the net gains to Party B, upon Party B providing sufficient and satisfactory justification (acceptable to Party A) that such absence of cash flow is beyond Party B's control.
Additional Termination Events	: Party A has the right to terminate the transaction and to cause early termination of this Transaction in the event that Party B does not provide the original or certified copies of the underlying exposure to Party A in accordance with the regulations and as mentioned under Additional Undertakings section below. If this option is exercised: if the Unwind Cost is positive, Party B shall pay the amount it to Party A, and, if the Unwind Cost is negative, then Party A, in accordance and compliance with the Regulations, shall not pay the amount to Party B, upon Termination, which Party B agrees, acknowledges and confirms. For the avoidance of doubt, the Unwind Cost shall be paid in addition to any amounts due and payable on or prior to the Termination Date.
Unwind Cost	: Unwind Costs means an amount equal to Party A's total costs or loss (which shall be a positive number) or gain (which shall be a negative number) in connection with terminating all payments and contingent payments that would otherwise have been made under this transaction in the period from but excluding the relevant Optional Termination Date up to and including the originally scheduled Termination date. Party A's total costs or loss shall include, without limitation, any loss of bargain, cost of funding, or loss or cost incurred as a result of Party A terminating, liquidating, obtaining or re-establishing any hedge or related position.

Party A shall provide the Mark to Market value of the trade as and when desired by Party B.
