

Notice About Fraud

Please note that Deutsche Bank is not offering any financial services or products to consumers in Ireland.

Individuals purporting to act for Deutsche Bank may contact Irish residents by phone and/or email in relation to potential investments. For example, offering favourable deposit interest rates or other favourable fixed term investments. Investment scams target individuals and are often linked to a criminal enterprise, such as fraud. They also often result in financial losses for the affected individual.

If you receive a communication purporting to be from Deutsche Bank or relating to an investment opportunity provided by Deutsche Bank:

- You can validate the communication by contacting us directly using our official contact details at <https://www.db.com>
- Please also refer to the "Consumer Hub" on the Central Bank of Ireland website: Home | Central Bank of Ireland for further information regarding Financial Scams
- Consider making a criminal complaint to your local garda station
